WASHINGTON, March 19.—In the House the substitute for the Alaska Fur Protecting bill was referred to the Committee on Commerce. It is urged that only natives of Alaska are paying one dollar per skin.

Thayer modified his substitute, allowing the President thirty days after the commencement of the session to report the names of officers removed during the recess, and adding a proviso that no person rejected by the Senate shall be appointed during the recess. He advocated repeal in a lengthy speech, avowing the doctrine that the party in power has the right to control government patronage.

Drake favored repeal but would not vote for suspension.

McDonald introduced a bill granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to the Mexican boundary at Presidio, Del Norte, in the direction of Albuquerque and California.

Wilson introduced a resolution authorizing the President to place General Heintzleman on the retired list, with the full rank he held at the time he was wounded.

The Senate confirmed a number of postmasters to-day.

The Vice President appointed the following committee on the removal of political disabilities: Robertson, Osborn, Harlan, Howe, Ferry, Boreman and Vickers.

"Oh, I guess not; fact is, I had just made up my mind to give it to the fellow whose papers weigh the most. That's as good a way as any—so here goes." The papers were weighed, and the lucky applicant having the heaviest lot of foolscap received the appointment.

The Origin of Chocolate.

When Cortes, in 1520, penetrated with his adventurous followers the empire of Montezuma, he found large cacao plantations, which dated from "time immemorial." The Mexicans attributed the plant to divine origin, and, indeed, paid to it certain honors. They planted it, harvested it, and made it into chocolate with religious ceremonials. The fruit served them as money, and when roasted, ground, and mixed with water and scented with vanilla, a beverage was obtained which they considered not only to be appreciated by the noblest of earth, but fitted for the gods to drink. In glowing language, worthy of Brillat de Savarin, Dr. Prescott, in his "Conquest of Mexico," has described the reports of Montezuma, wherein chocolate plays such an important part. From the "conquistadores" Europe first learned the use of chocolate as a beverage and food—for it is both. When, however, the Mexicans learned to brown the fruit of the cacociros, and make it into delicious drinks and creams, no one knows. Suffice it to say that those who were left of the "conquistadores" took back to the West Indies, and thence to Spain, the cacao and the knowledge of its manufacture. For a long time, Spain, true to her narrow notions, would not allow cacao to be exported to foreign ports, and for many years other countries of Europe did not know what chocolate was.

But prohibition and monopoly always work badly, for they are sure to produce breaking of laws and connivance at fraud. The Hollanders were the contrabandistas who at length made known to Europe the worth of chocolate despite the laws of Spain, and, in fact, finally ruined the monopoly of the Peninsula. From Holland, chocolate was introduced into England and Germany. A little later Italy received it from Spain. A short time after some Spanish monks crossed the Pyrenees and made France acquainted with the delightful beverage which they had so often enjoyed in the cities of Andalusia. This was only a few years after coffee had been introduced into France. How many good things came to the Old World on the heels of discovery of America, even if they did not in every instance originate on the Western Continent. The fragrant weed regaled millions of Europeans and Asiatics before the Abyssinian (not Arabian) berry from the province of Kaffa, near the White Nile, hence the name coffee, had furnished a wholesome drink to the people of Stamboul, Paris and London. —*N. Let It Pass.

"Let former grudges pass." —Shakspeare

Be not swift to take offense,
Let it pass!
Anger is no foe to sense;
Let it pass!
Brood not darkly o'er a wrong,
Which will disappear ere long;
Rather sing this cheery song,
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Strife [illegible] the purest mind;
Let it pass!
As the unregarded wind,
Let it pass!
Any vulgar souls that live,
May condemn without reprieve,
'Tis the noble who forgive:
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Echo not an angry word;
Let it pass!
Think how often you have erred;
Let it pass!
Since our joys must pass away,
Like the dew-drops on the spray,
Wherefore should our sorrows stay?
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

If for good you've taken ill,
Let it pass!
Do not with scorn the measures fill,
Let it pass!
Time at last makes all things straight;
Let us not resent, but wait,
And our triumph shall be great;
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

Bid your anger to depart;
Let it pass!
Lay these homely words to heart—
Let it pass!
Follow not the giddy throng,
Better to be wronged than wrong;
Therefore sing the cheery song—
Let it pass!
Let it pass!

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and [illegible] cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months to which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. B. MOORE,	NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WALL,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T RAMSEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

Prepared by SMITH & ROACH,

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent, the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State, and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to everything of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,
AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF
Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

TELEGRAMS FROM THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, making new plans for improvement and usefulness, and hopes to gain increased circulation and support.

TERMS:

One Year	$3 00.
Six Months	2 00.
Three Months	1 00.

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN has been a favorite paper for mailing to friends in the East. It will be mailed from the office at subscription rates.

Subscribers will find on each paper, with their names, the date on which their subscriptions expire, as entered on our books. In renewing, the name of subscriber and post office should be distinctly written.

All papers are discontinued at the end of the time for which they have been paid, the date of which is always printed with the name each week.

☞ REMIT BY MAIL AT OUR RISK, in presence of Postmaster, or pay to the nearest authorized agent.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from poison absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, [illegible]ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering [illegible] any of these horrible life-destroying maladies [illegible] they are cared for and cured before it be too late. [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician [illegible] made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing [illegible] public by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse, solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing, with unerring certainty, the following [illegible] of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, dim[illegible] [illegible] strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the [illegible] furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, [illegible] sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief [illegible] not obtained, should apply immediately, either in [illegible] or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never [illegible] effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are under any of these fearful maladies, should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay [illegible] obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give patients a written instrument, binding himself to [illegible] radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT [illegible] by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating [illegible] toms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the [illegible] Some of the self-styled doctors, whose [illegible] are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and [illegible] lazy to work at their trades. Some are [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, [illegible] will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the [illegible] tory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] tion is to make enquiry—it will cost you [illegible] may save you many regrets; for, as advertising [illegible] cians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is [illegible] safety in trusting any of them until you know [illegible] what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive [illegible] exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended [illegible] letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases [illegible] proposes to cure.

Arrival of the "Geo. S. Wright."—The steamship Geo. S. Wright, Langdon, Commander, arrived at 8 A. M., yesterday, three days from Victoria, and eleven days from Sitka. The following is her memoranda and passenger list—

Left Victoria Friday, March 19th at 8½ A. M. Arrived at Neah Bay Saturday, March 20th A. M. Passed the steamer Gussie Telfair at 9 A. M. off Flattery Rock. Crossed the Columbia River Bar at 6 Sunday, March 21st. Left Astoria 10 A. M. Sunday. Anchored at mouth of Willamett 10 P. M., in dense fog. Arrived at Portland 8 A. M. March 22nd.

Passengers—Gen G A Blake, Col. M A Reno, Maj H A Allen, Lieut. P H Hall, Peter Hume, Mr. Fisher, Mr Lamar, Geo. Chapman, W H Silver, Jas. Castle, W B Yassie, Mr. Brooks, Geo. Hamilton.

The Wright arrived at Victoria from Sitka on the 29th. She left Sitka on Thursday 11th inst.; arrived at Wrangle on Friday evening; sailed Saturday and arrived at [illegible] on Sunday morning at daylight; left Tongass [illegible] noon; spoke U. S. Government schooner Margaret at the entrance of Granville Channel on Monday; on Tuesday boarded the Otter in Johnstone's Straits; on Wednesday arrived at Nanaimo and coaled; sailed thence yesterday morning and arrived at Victoria 2 o'clock same afternoon. By this arrival we learn that Mr. Ketchum says he seized the J. L. Stephens for landing liquors and other contraband goods without a permit from the commanding officer of the Department, and for landing goods taken on at a foreign port (Victoria) without first paying duties thereon. The Indian troubles at Sitka are smoothed over. The Kakes, who fled at the approach of Gen Davis, are reported to be on their way to Sitka with the murderers of the two traders. The weather along the coast has been fine. At Nanaimo, the Shooting Star was [illegible] and sailed on Wednesday for San Francisco. The bark Kutusoff had arrived from Port Gamble, W. T., in tow of the Cyrus Walker, and would take in a cargo of coal for San Francisco.

Oro Fino Theater.—The audience at Oro Fino last [illegible] was not a large one, but it was certainly a delighted one. "Grimaldi" was put upon the stage in most excellent style and the characters were supported with admirable spirit. Mrs. Bates' Violet is a very pretty piece of acting. She thoroughly enlists the sym[illegible] of the audience in the career of the young protege of the old actor: her inexperience of the real world and of the stage upon which she is soon to be a debutante, her [illegible] fear of failure; her triumphant success; her [illegible] persecutions; the abduction, rescue, and the [illegible] follow in the closing scenes where she [illegible] wife of an honorable man and re[illegible] of not only her former rival but [illegible]-in-law and her Bon Pere, now appear[illegible] of a Duke, the representative of [illegible] lines of Europe. Mr. Vinson's Grimaldi is one of the very best dramatic representations [illegible] in this city. The old man's love [illegible] in his protege; his ecstacy at her [illegible]; grief and despair at her per[illegible] abduction by the villainous Maltravers; his [illegible] of the would-be destroyer of his child; [illegible] dignity with which he resumes his title and rank, were all delineated by Mr. Vinson with excellent truth and effect. Both he and Mrs. Bates were called [illegible] the curtain at the close of the piece and [illegible]astically applauded. The other characters [illegible] were well represented, especially by the two [illegible]ry and Thornton. Miss Fields did creditably [illegible] Countess and Miss Cummings as Julia was ap[illegible] the last scene. The play will be repeated to-night with the same cast.

How the Victorians Do It.—The following from the [illegible] the free and easy way which the authorities [illegible] have, of disposing of suspicious or troublesome characters:

[illegible] morning Thomas Waterhouse and Wm. [illegible] were brought before the Police Magistrate [illegible] with being suspicious characters or lunatics. The [illegible], addressing Waterhouse, said that an opportunity occurred for sending him to Olympia.

[illegible]: I've been to Olympia; but I don't like [illegible] of the country thereabouts. I'd rather go to Portland.

[illegible]: Very well. Williams, the American Consul [illegible] to send you, on next Friday, to Portland.

[illegible]: Thank you sir,—much obliged.

[illegible] were then [illegible] to await conveyance.

This is certainly cheaper and less trouble[illegible] than to [illegible] "characters or lunatics" in jails or asylums, but we hope we shall be pardoned if we ask the authorities if it is strictly honest and fair. How, pray, did Portland become a penal colony to the colony of British Columbia?

[illegible] to the Insane Asylum.—A man named G. De[illegible], who has for a long time been residing near East [illegible], came over to this city yesterday morning, and [illegible], was arrested and taken before [illegible], who sent him taken to the asylum. He is an old customer of the [illegible] Labbe, previous [illegible], and his first demonstration yesterday was [illegible] upon Mr. [illegible]. His monomania is the [illegible] that everybody who supplies him with provisions [illegible] in the stuff to make him sick. He [illegible] they do it, not to kill him, but to make him sick and then disgust him with the country and force him to [illegible], so that they can get his property. When he [illegible] Mr. [illegible] he had a pistol in his pocket, but fortunately, he was prevented from using it, though he tried to do so. When taken before the Judge, he talks rather rationally upon other matters, but was evidently very crazy upon the subject of his food. He exp[illegible] that anybody should think him insane, and when the [illegible] attempted to take him away he became [illegible] that it was found [illegible] to put handcuffs upon him.

A Nice Place to Live in.—Let all go to White Pine, by all means. It must be such a nice place to live in! Such a quiet place, and such etherial mildness of climate! [illegible] mentions a late shocking affray in which [illegible] meek-mannered gentlemen took a hand and each [illegible] or two—resulting in the death of only two men and the [illegible] of another. Such an exemption from [illegible], where the shootingers and the pistols [illegible] so many, was never heard of anywhere else, and [illegible] that White Pine is one of the safest places in the [illegible] and therefore one of the most desirable. Not [illegible] for coroners and coffins there. The same ex[illegible] the gratifying fact [illegible] it is highly [illegible] to the White Pine region—that during the latter part of February, the thermometer rarely ranged [illegible] than [illegible] degrees below zero. A stage driver upon the route from Hamilton to Treasure City, was [illegible] through and through, upon his arrival, one [illegible] place. The advantage of such a tem[illegible] may be seen at a glance—nobody can possibly [illegible] for ice in their mint juleps. Nice place is White Pine.

Arrival of the "Gussie Telfair."—The steamship [illegible], F. C. Sholl commander, arrived at Portland at 7.10 A. M. yesterday. The following is her memoranda and passenger list: Memoranda—Left Victoria, V. I., March 19, 1869, at 2 P. M.; arrived off Cape [illegible] at 8.30 P. M., a gale blowing from the southeast; [illegible] in the straits all night until 9.30 A. M. the 20th; [illegible] Columbia River Bar at 9.30 A. M. the 21st; arrived at [illegible] at noon; left Astoria at 1.20 P. M. and [illegible] Portland at 7.10 A. M. the 22d, after lying at [illegible] the mouth of the Willamette river five hours in a fog.

[illegible]—Mrs James Dickson and child, A Foster, [illegible] Boyd, Col S Francis, U S A, Mrs R Calboen and [illegible], Mrs Pratt and 3 children, Mrs V Birne, Mrs S J [illegible], John E[illegible], John Simpson, Arthur Haine, G [illegible], G Smith, Mrs G Wright, Mr G Wright, Ned [illegible], W Baxter, Mrs W Baxter and 3 children, Mrs [illegible], Mrs J Henson, A Waterhouse, S [illegible], R Comb, Mark Freeman, Frank Brown, R [illegible], Ah Yoo, Ah Wow.

[illegible] of the Jane A. Falkinburg.—The following [illegible] consignees, with the number of packges to each, [illegible] A. Falkinburg, which arrived here Sat[illegible]: A & L 130 packages, B O 170, triangle B [illegible] & G 36, B F Smith 100, C L Parker 15, C & M 735, [illegible] & Co 21, E McQuillan & E J N & Co 180, M Martin [illegible] Failing 304, M & N 3, M C & Co 203, O S S 5, R G [illegible], triangle S 1260, S S & Co 415, Smith & Davis 2, [illegible] Feller & Frankenau 26, Wiberg & Strowbridge 5, [illegible] & Co 3, Walker & Bro 3, Quackenbush 58, [illegible] & Co 107, G N C 15, G W G 330, H L Pittock 15, H C & Co [illegible], H & S 30, H B & Co 59, Hawley & Dodd 260, dia[illegible] 78, J F Jones 12, J M P 16, Jno Gruber 20, J B [illegible] 9, Knapp, Burrell & Co 13 separators and [illegible] packages, K & B 107.

[illegible] Mention.—Bro. Ireland of the Oregon City [illegible] was in town yesterday morning on a flying visit......Several wagons loaded with produce were in from the country yesterday......Chinook salmon of [illegible] quality are now in the market......We hear of several new cases of the White Pine fever, and of one or two [illegible] who have been attacked by the Terminus [illegible] which prevails very widely among the people of Puget Sound......Yesterday was a very busy day both at the docks and on the streets, in consequence of the [illegible] and unloading of the steamers and other vessels just arrived.

Library Lecture To-night.—The last lecture in the [illegible] for the benefit of the Library Association will be [illegible] to-night, at the Philharmonic Hall, in Holmes' new building, by Dr. J. H. Bill, U. S. A. Subject—"Physical Differences between Man and the Lower Animals." The lecture, we are assured, will be well prepared and interesting. This is the last lecture of the course, and we hope both for the sake of the Library and the lecturer that our people will turn out in force. Doors open at 7 o'clock; lecture to commence at 8; admittance 50 cents.

Seriously Injured.—We learn, says the Commercial, that a gentleman residing upon Cowlitz river, in Cowlitz county, W. T., by the name of Champerell, met with a very serious casualty last week. He was engaged in operating with an eight-horse threshing machine, when by crowding it beyond its accustomed speed, the [illegible] burst into fragments. One of the iron teeth struck him in the forehead, on the side and another in the thigh. The combined effects rendered him insensible for nearly two days, but at last accounts he was slowly re[illegible].

Another Small Pox Excitement.—We are informed that [illegible] brought up by the Oriflamme from San Francisco, was sick with small pox and that the case is a bad one. He was taken to Vancouver immediately, where his [illegible] stirred up a tremendous excitement. The patient has been placed in quarters remote from the residents of the garrison and town, but still great alarm exists, and we are informed that the town authorities held a meeting yesterday for the purpose of adopting measures of safety.

[illegible] Port.—There are now in port the steamships Ori[illegible], Gussie Telfair and Geo. S. Wright; the barks Helen Angier, and Falkinburg, and schooner Alaska. The latter will leave to-day for St. Helens, where she is to load with lumber for San Francisco.

Aid Society.—The Ladies' Orphans' Aid Society will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Church. A full attendance is requested.

The Automatic Clothes Washer and Boiler.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of the public to the advertisement of Mr. A. C. Ripley, agent for the sale of the Automatic Clothes Washer and Boiler, an invention which must surely work something of a revolution in the matter of clothes washing. The apparatus can be seen in operation, next door to Hurgren & Shindler, First street, above Taylor.

U. S. District Court, Deady, Judge.—The following were the proceedings in this court yesterday:

Cyrus A. Dolph admitted to the bar.

In the matter of R. A. Sutherland, bankrupt, petition for discharge; motion by creditors to deny the application argued and submitted. Fechheimer for creditors, Logan for petitioner.

Adjourned until Saturday next.

Branch Establishment.—We learn that the Pioneer Oil Company, of Salem, are about to begin the erection of a building at North Portland, to be used for the storing of material to and the products of the mill. We do not learn whether it is their purpose to do anything here in the way of manufacturing.

Freight from San Francisco and Victoria.—The steamship Oriflamme brought about 550 tons freight and the bark Falkinburg about [illegible] tons; the Gussie Telfair brought from Victoria about 50 tons and the Wright near 75 tons—total 1,2[illegible] tons, most of which was general merchandise.

Compromising.—We learn that a majority of the parties against whom the East Side Railroad Co. brought suits in Clackamas county for right of way, are compromising with the company. A very sensible way of settling the matter.

Interesting to the Women.—See the advertisement of Mr. A. J. Kane, agent for the Imperial Soap, by the use of which, it is claimed two thirds of the usual labor and expense of washing can be saved.

To Sail.—The steamship Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco on Thursday at 2 o'clock P. M., and the Geo. S. Wright will sail for Victoria same day at 6 o'clock P. M.

Chinook Salmon.—The first catch of the season of these delicious fish has been received by J. Quinn, at the Union Market, Washington street.

Going to Victoria.—We learn that Rev. Dr. Lindsley will go to Victoria to assist at the opening of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday, the 4th proximo.

Pacific Slope Brevities.

On the 12th inst. the municipal election took place at Sacramento. The Republican ticket was elected by about 500 majority.

The Anti-Chinese Ku-Klux Democracy made an unsuccessful attempt to burn the public school building at San Jose (Cal.) on the 27th February.

The San Diego Union advocates the construction of a road between that place and San Bernardino. The distance is only 115 miles and the road will run by the Temescal tin mines.

The snow sheds erected over the track of the Central Pacific railroad are 22 miles in length by 16 feet wide and 16 feet high. 40,000,000 feet of lumber was used in its construction, and it covers an area of nearly 43 acres.

Dr. Joseph H. Josselyn, who was recently convicted of producing an abortion in San Francisco, was sentenced to three years in the State Prison, but was admitted to bail in the sum of $6,500, pending an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Humboldt Indians are said to be on the war path. The Humboldt Times says that a party of Indians, consisting of ten bucks and one squaw, had lately been seen in the vicinity where Emory was killed, and that a number of cattle have been wantonly slaughtered by them. The Times says they are evidently on the war-path, and calls on the authorities at Fort Gaston to take immediate action for the protection of families from them.

The Truckee Tribune says: "With the opening of Spring, Truckee will become one of the liveliest towns on the coast. Every saw mill in the district will run to its fullest capacity night and day, and the railroad company has a vast amount of labor to be performed between here and the Summit, which can be done to advantage only in summer. We do not think, from what we can learn, that less than five thousand men will be employed on the road and about the mills within this district.

Robertson district, says the Nevada Enterprise, of March 3d, is a new mining district, some 30 miles east of White Pine, and is said to contain some very large and valuable leads. A party of gentlemen interested in the district leave this city to-day to look after locations made for them. The assays for the principal leads discovered run from $80 to $275. There is said to be plenty of wood and water in the district, and the country rock is similar to that at White Pine, being limestone and granite."

The John L. Stephens at Nanaimo.

THE STEPHENS SEIZED BY THE REVENUE DEPARTMENT—DATES TO MARCH 16.

[From the British Colonist, March 18.]

The steamer Enterprise returned from Nanaimo at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, bringing as passengers Capt. C. C. Dall, of the steamship John L. Stephens, Lieut. Eagan, U. S. A., Mr. D. Turner, of Wells, Fargo & Co., Messrs. Boscowitz, C. A. Gillingham, J. Young, Pilot Suvarrovitch and several others. The steamship John L. Stephens reached Nanaimo on Tuesday at 2 o'clock P. M., having made the run from Sitka in 72 hours—the best time yet accomplished between the two ports. She remains at Nanaimo to coal. The steamer is in the custody of the U. S. Revenue Department, she having been seized at Sitka by Mr. Ketchum, Special Agent of the Treasury Department for Alaska Territory, upon a charge of an infraction of the revenue laws, in having landed goods at Fort Wrangel in violation of an Act of Congress forbidding ships sailing from San Francisco to Alaska Territory touching at any port of the said Territory without first entering at the port of Sitka.

It appears that Mr. Holladay, President of the C. O. & M. S. S. Co., being aware of the Act, received a special permit from the Secretary of the Treasury, directing General Miller, Collector of the port of San Francisco, to clear the steamship John L. Stephens for Sitka, via Victoria, Nanaimo, Fort Tongas and Fort Wrangel, with the privilege of landing goods at the two last named points before proceding to Sitka. Upon the arrival of the ship at Fort Wrangel, Mr. Ketchum, who chanced to be at that place on Government business, came aboard and introduced himself to Capt. Dall as Collector of Customs for Alaska Territory, and asked for the ship's papers, which were handed him. He was informed that supplies for the troops had been landed from the steamer at Tongas; and was shown the ship's special permit to do so. Upon consultation with Lieut. Moore, Collector at Wrangel, Mr. Ketchum informed Capt. Dall that all was right, and allowed him to land his freight there. Mr. Ketchum then went on to Wrangel as passenger, and was charged $25 fare, to which he demurred, making the remark that Collectors should be carried free.

After arriving at Sitka, a delay of one day and a half occurred before Mr. Ketchum would allow the ship to enter, thus delaying the landing of freight and Government stores. As soon as the steamer had been entered, an order was sent to the Captain of the Revenue Cutter Reliance to seize the Stephens with an armed force, which was done—a detachment boarding her with firearms and cutlasses. Capt. Dall asked Mr. Ketchum, in writing, upon what ground the steamer was seized? Mr Ketchum returned no answer, but stated on shore that he would make $20,000 by seizure. The army officers were put to great inconveniencies, not being allowed to land their personal baggage without a permit.

Having discharged freight, the steamer was ordered to Portland—a revenue officer and two men being placed on board. Capt. Dall not having sufficient coal to carry him to Portland, put in at Nanaimo, and immediately upon his arrival here yesterday, telegraphed to San Francisco for instructions.

Intense indignation was expressed by the Alaskians at the conduct of Mr. Ketchum, who among other things, seized a package of candy from San Francisco—weighing two pounds and intended as a present to a lady—and forced the purser to pay a duty of two bits, upon the mere suspicion that the candy came from Victoria!

The G. S. Wright arrived at Sitka upon the same evening as the Stephens. The army officers who went up by her held a court-martial upon an officer. The decision was not made known.

The Wright left Sitka two days before the Stephens, but was to call at Fort Wrangle and Tongas.

The U. S. steamer Saginaw was to sail from Sitka in a few days from Victoria.

On Tuesday the Stephens passed the steamer Otter, bound for Queen Charlotte Island, 40 miles to the north of Nanaimo, also a schooner bound North. On the day previous, saw a sloop going into Fort Rupert.

Business was very dull at Alaska. Indians quiet.

THE "STEPHENS" RELEASED.

Capt. Dall received, last evening, an answer to his telegram from the United States authorities at San Francisco. Instructions are sent to the revenue officers who have the Stephens in charge to release the ship forthwith. It is believed that Ketchum (read catch 'em!) will be relieved from further duty in a department where he is only useful in casting obstacles in the way of commerce.

Notice.—We take pleasure in informing our numerous patrons that Messrs. Emil Boehet and D. Rafferty arrived by last steamer and we are now prepared to do justice to our increasing patronage by offering the best talent and ability in dispensing, etc.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,
DENTIST.

OFFICE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co's Hardware Store.

I am now making, amongst other numerous styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3d, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it not only makes the plate double as strong but cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common Plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates, can have it made out to them by applying to the office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Pennoyer does not like o encumber his space with remarks directed raight at Beriah, so when he lets oft a broadde he fires wide, but has Beriah in his eye ll the time as the object aimed at. The folowing is a specimen.

It is the great misfortune of some people that hey do not die in the right time. Such people elong to all classes and both sexes of society. But in no class are they so mischievous as in poitical organizations. Here they are an inconeivable nuisance. Past the time for comprehendng new ideas, morally and intellectually stiffened with age, they can neither comprehend or adapt hemselves to the requirements and progress of he times. Hence we find them always in the ear of political organizations, puffing and blowing ike porpoises, declaring that the party is going oo fast, or to the devil direct, and crying out gainst every one who passes by them in the vigor f youth and in a full appreciation of the necessiies of the times, as radicals, and throwing after hem in their impotent rage, with toothless accent, ll the scurrility and billingsgate acquired in a oo lengthy lifetime. Now is there no way in which this nuisance can be suppressed? Would t not be well for our political organizations if hey would make some positive disposition of hese venerable and superannuated old grannies, who persistently refuse to die at the proper time.

Beriah considers himself hit by these remarks, and retorts in a long article levelled at the "young reformers" who are trying to swerve the Democratic party from its ancient faith. It will be seen that in the course of his remarks he makes an eloquent allusion to his own gray hairs:

A much smaller specimen of the kind in this State, who has come into the Democratic party since the disbandment of the Know Nothing organization, and probably never gave a day's [illegible] to the party without pay, or was ever publicly [illegible] in the party in any time or position of [illegible], speaks of the men who have spent their lives in battling for the Democratic [illegible] as "an inconceivable nuisance. Past the time for comprehending new ideas, morally and intellectually stiffened with age, they can neither comprehend nor adapt themselves to the requirements and progress of the times." We have not yet reached the years attained by either of the first nine Presidents of the United States before they were called to preside over the destinies of the nation, but we confess to being one of that class who "can neither comprehend nor adapt themselves to the requirements and progress of the times." For more than twenty years we have been content to be denounced as an "old hunker," an "old fogy," and sometimes as a "fossil," cause we did not deem the "new lights" of superficial and sensational politicians as any improvement upon the wisdom of the [illegible] of the Republic. Every year's experience has confirmed us in these opinions, and upon this base we are content to be ranked with the "superannuated old grannies."

Cushing's Treaty.

Of the proposed Darien Ship Canal the New York Times remarks that every political obstacle to its construction is removed by the Cushing treaty; it [illegible] only to attack the physical [illegible] and vast as these are it may be [illegible] that they will [illegible] yield to the [illegible].

It is said that an agent of the Nicaraguan Government some time ago concluded an [illegible] in Paris for the construction of an [illegible] canal through Nicaragua. If so, we may have a race between Yankee and Frenchman for the great prize; and, meanwhile, we hear the English railroad scheme rivalled by a private American railroad enterprise, which has secured aid and concessions from Costa Rica. So, in fine, with an interoceanic ship [illegible] through the possessions of New Granada, and another through Nicaragua, and with a new [illegible] through [illegible] and another through Costa Rica, and with all four enterprises moving on to[illegible], who shall say to what extent the isthmus will not be riddled with canals and belted with railroads within ten or twenty years to [illegible]

The main features of the Cushing treaty are: The [illegible] of right of way; of ten miles of [illegible] land on each side of the canal throughout its whole length, with construction materials, etc.; the land to be equally divided between the two Governments, and to be applied for the uses of the transit; that no other canal or railway shall be opened through Colombian Territory without our consent; that it [illegible] have capacity for the transit of all classes of vessels [illegible] sail and steam; that it shall be controlled by the United States, the same party regulating rates of transit on an equal [illegible] for all nations; that Colombia may preserve its political sovereignty over the canal; that she may collect duties, but shall not exact tolls; that any United States force required to protect or defend the canal shall be under the orders of both Governments; that the United States may transfer its right to a private company; that the work shall belong absolutely to Colombia after one hundred years from its completion; and that the surveys must be completed in three years after the exchange of ratification, the work commenced in five and finished in fifteen years.

If the canal is built the work will probably be done by a private company authorized by Congress to undertake it. One such company was incorporated last year by the Legislature of New York, including such well known capitalists and constructors as Peter Cooper, Cyrus Butler, W. T. Coleman, Marshall O. Roberts, F. M. Kelley, C. K. Garrison, F. A. Conkling, W. H. Vanderbilt, and others, who have since become fully organized under their charter as a joint stock company for constructing a ship canal.

The treaty is said to be very satisfactory to hese capitalists. It is not probable that the work can be completed at a less cost than one hundred million dollars.

A Judicious View.

A leading Eastern journal which has been oted for its so-called "conservative" tendenies, judiciously observes that for a change in he laws regulating suffrage, the country is to large extent prepared. While conceding to he States their full constitutional control ver the subject, the desirableness of securing ubstantial uniformity on a basis harmonizing econstruction, has forced itself upon the Reublican party. The ability to justify negro enranchisement throughout the South depends omewhat upon the readiness of the North to bate its own hostility to negro enfranchisement. There can be no propriety in insisting hat the blacks shall have their full share of ower in States where their numbers make hem formidable so long as we refuse them he privilege in States where their political nfluence must always be insignificant. Havg made the freedman a citizen, we canot without gross inconsistency deny the tness of his race to participate in the ballot. The reasoning which conducts to this conusion is, however, satisfied with an assurnce of general political equality. It does not quire the universal enfranchisement of colred people; it only declares that they shall e subject to no condition in respect of voting hich does not equally apply to white citizens. mpartial suffrage meets the equity of the se—obliterating the distinctions originating in the slave system, and at the same time leaving the suffrage question still in some measure subject to the States. It makes the black man politically the equal of the white man—which certainly should satisfy the special friends of the former, but without offending needlessly State pride, or necessitating the abandonment of qualifications which some States have established in the interest of their people.

How Others See Us.

The gross impolicy, or worse, the downright folly of recent propositions which have been made in the House of Representatives at Washington touching the affairs of Cuba and other islands of the West Indies are viewed abroad just as they are viewed by sensible people of our own country with disapprobation and disgust. The London Times is not a paper to which we would habitually look for impartial and just criticism on American affairs; but in the following paragraph from that journal there is enough good sense to commend it to the attention of American readers, even though it does not flatter our national pride. The Times says

It is through discussions such as that in the House of Representatives on the Protectorate of Hayti and San Domingo that the American character is misapprehended. Foreigners find a difficulty in understanding how such a discussion could have arisen at all, and, still more, how it could have proceeded as it did. They are puzzled to see such a person as General Banks filling the position of Chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee some three or four years in succession. They observe that he is of slight reputation among his own countrymen, and that the reports or propositions he makes, whether on naturalization, the conflict of laws, the rights and obligations of neutrals, or any other subject that arises, are either suppressed or so transformed that their author cannot recognize them in their ultimate shape. Their astonishment is not lessened when they follow the discussions of the popular branch of the Legislature upon Gen. Banks' proposals. The sound conclusions of the majority are scarcely able to efface the memory of the wild theories that are broached, and apparently received with respect before the final decision is expressed. The explanation of the anomaly is simple. The truth is that while no people are so educated in the art and mystery of domestic government as the Americans, no people are more ignorant of the principles of international conduct and the politics of foreign States. A few great lawyers, who are never found in the Legislature, thoroughly understand international law; but the mass of the nation know nothing of it, and as little of the principles of government in other countries. The House of Representatives, unchecked, as our House of Commons commonly is, by the presence of two or three masters who understand the subjects, is entirely at sea when questions of foreign affairs arise for discussion, and its members are forced to grope their way through a multitude of words darkening knowledge before they can form a conclusion. It is to their infinite credit for moderation and sagacity that the conclusions they do form under such unpromising circumstances commonly command our respect by their good sense and justice.

Small Notes.

General Schofield, late Secretary of War, was nominated and confirmed as Major General of the Army at the time when Sherman was made General and Sheridan Lieutenant General.

During the year 1868 there arrived at New York from Europe 3,107 Mormon immigrants. Two-thirds of them were from England. The next greatest number was from Denmark. The destination of all of them was Utah.

Some of the Democratic organs are still raving excitedly about the money that is locked up in the State safe at Salem. Now as their party had a clear majority in both branches of the Legislature last fall, and as they found time to travel out of their way to pass insulting resolutions over the heads of the Republican members and send them all the way to Congress, why couldn't they also find time to do their duty to the State by providing for current expenses? They could pass everything else that they wanted to over the heads of the Republican members, why didn't they at least try to pass the appropriation bill when the Republican members were begging them for three days to do it?

All the Republican papers, East and West, denounce Butler's recent bullying on the floor of Congress while the electoral vote was being counted. The Providence Press says "it is idle to excuse the bravado of Butler." The Providence Journal says that his conduct disgraced New England, and that "the humiliation and disgrace can be diminished only by the indignant and universal reprobation of what General Butler has done." The Boston Transcript says, that by his insults to the Senate, "Massachusetts and the country suffered a deeper dishonor than was ever wrought by the course of the most notorious representative of the Southern chivalry." The Cincinnati Commercial, Cincinnati Gazette, St. Louis Democrat, Chicago Tribune, and other leading Republican papers are equally severe in their characterization of the Massachusetts bully.

The constitutional amendment relating to the suffrage, as first passed by the Senate, was exceedingly objectionable to the Republicans in all parts of the country. The press attacked it with great vigor, sustained the House amendment and pointed out its advantages over the one proposed by the Senate. The Cincinnati Commercial expressed a doubt whether a single Legislature would ratify the Senate amendment. The St. Louis Democrat, the leading organ of Radical Republicanism in Missouri, took strong ground against it. The House utterly refused to go the extreme proposed by the Senate, and the latter body finally receded and adopted the amendment substantially as it came from the House at first. The consequence is that the Republicans are everywhere satisfied with the amendment and the Legislatures will ratify it without delay.

The Yreka Journal of March 5th, says another distinguished Confederate soldier, who claims to have been a Major, and a member of Stonewall Jackson's staff, passed through town recently for the Webfoot country. He stated that he had been very wealthy and sold $400,000 of Confederate bonds for $15, which may be considered a good bargain. It was his intention to call on the Doctor at the Fort, and also upon the friends of the Confederacy in Yreka, had it not been for their having been swindled by another Confederate from Virginia, one of Mosby's command. The San Francisco Bulletin adds "We recognize in this gentleman, the notorious H. Granville Gray, who commenced operations in this city and subsequently visited Sacramento, Stockton, Havilah, Tuolumne City and Marysville adopting various aliases and abusing the hospitality of friends of the Sunny South. The Oregon people should give this Virginia carpet-bagger a wholesome check." The Bulletin is too tender by half. We hope this chiv. will bilk the admirers of the Confederacy in Oregon in grand style. We know they will receive him with open arms.

Of course you won't rebel, but if you should you can rely upon it that some Democrats will swing next time.—Oregonian.

Y-a-s—another old woman, perhaps.—Eugene Guard.

No doubt, if another Andy Johnson is President.

The San Francisco Chronicle observes that the McMinnville (Or.) Courier uses fifty admiration points in one editorial, and but one grain of common sense.

"Lo" the Poor Indian.

One Carl Knortz, who has for some time been engaged in studying the antiquities and languages of the North American Indians, recently struck the trail of Hiawatha, and has added many legends to what Longfellow has already immortalized. From Shawano, chief of the Ojibways, he has procured the following origin of his tribe, which we give as an instance of remarkable fable:

The Ojibways, he declared, [illegible] in Heaven. Then [illegible] a time the Great Spirit let fly a pair of them, in crows' shape, to the earth, and these two flew through the whole world, tasting, as they went, the flesh of the buffalo, the bear, the beaver, the deer, and of other animals; but as they perceived from the flavor of each that it was [illegible] in the lapse of years to extinction they would not alight in any of their lands. After they had thus flown about the earth [illegible] which they came to the rapids, tasted the fish there, and discovered that these would never be diminished. Accordingly, they alighted on the spot where the fort now stands, and as soon as they touched the earth with their feet they suddenly became a human pair.

PACIFIC OCEAN CURRENTS. Every student of climatology, says the Philadelphia Press, is familiar with the effects of the Gulf Stream upon the islands of Great Britain and the Continent of Europe. The "Physical Geography of the Sea," by Maury, first touched upon the warm water currents of the Pacific, and attributed the peculiar isotherms of the western portion of our continent to their influence. Subsequent observations all tended to the support of his theories, and now the Kuro Siwo, or Japan Current, is as strictly demarked as the Gulf Stream of the Atlantic, and its effect upon climate are as easily demonstrable, if not as well ascertained. The Kuro Siwo results from two currents of heated water from the Indian Ocean, one passing through the Straits of Malacca and the China Sea, the other skirting the eastern coast of the Philippine Islands, at the northern extremity of which they unite opposite the Japan Islands, this united current again divides its main branch, tending northeast, strikes our Pacific coast about midway between Vancouver's Island and Sitka. The waters of this current are four or five degrees warmer than those that surround them.

STATE ITEMS.

A block of lots at Springfield, Lane county, sells for four hundred dollars.

From the Eugene Guard: We are informed that the residence of Dr. Davie, on the McKinzie, was burned on last Tuesday morning. The Dr. and family were temporarily absent, and the house, with its entire contents, was destroyed.

From the Eugene Journal: A petition has been circulated and numerously signed, praying the City Council to take some steps to procure something with which we may defend ourselves in the future against the destroying element, fire. This is a step in the right direction.

Samuel Headrick died at Salem on the 20th inst. The Unionist has the following notice of him: Mr. Headrick was born in Pettis county, Missouri, on the 13th of November, 1836, and was consequently a little over thirty-two years old when he died. He crossed the plains with his family in 1847, and since that time has lived mostly in this (Marion) county. He was Sheriff from 1861 to 1866 (two terms), and County Treasurer from 1866 to 1868. Death could not have taken from this community a man who would be more missed. His business had made him well known, and wherever known he was respected. He is gone from among us, and many a one will have a tear and a word of remembrance for his memory.

The Awful Calamity at Eugene.

[From the Eugene Journal.]

Our citizens have been remarkably fortunate in times past in regard to fires, but it seems now that calamity is coming upon us like a tide from the fountain of destruction.

Last Sunday morning between the hours of six and seven the building of E. J. Brown was discovered to be on fire. It being Sunday morning not many of our citizens were up at that hour, but enough had reached the spot before the flames had spread beyond control, to succeed in subduing them with great as well as successful exertions. The fire caught from boards that the flue was built upon, it being an inexcusable poor job of workmanship, and had burned through the roof and got under considerable headway before discovered. If there had been any wind at the time, it would have been impossible to have controlled the flames, and the town would undoubtedly have been burned. Mr. Brown estimates his loss at $300.

On Wednesday morning about fifteen minutes after one o'clock, the alarm of fire was given, when it was discovered that a dry-house belonging to Cherry & Irving, and situated a few feet from their machine shop, was on fire. It was so far gone before discovered that all exertions to save it were useless, and all that could be done was to prevent the machine shop from taking fire also. The dry-house was full of lumber and timber already worked up, such as chair posts, window sash, etc. The loss is estimated at $600.

But it seems that the loss of property was not enough. Again on Wednesday night another fire occurred so terrible in its nature, and so shocking, that in trying to describe its horrors we would only display the insignificance of words. Between three and four o'clock in the morning Mr. Steventon discovered his house to be on fire, and he and his wife immediately ran down stairs supposing they could put it out. When they entered the lower room where the fire place was, they saw it was impossible to do anything more than to save their children. Seeing that it was impossible to bring the children down stairs, Mr. Steventon told his wife to go up stairs and put the children out at the window upon a shed and he would go round and catch them. Mrs. S. ran up stairs and endeavored to do as told, but when the door leading up stairs was opened the flames followed her so closely that, although she made several efforts to grasp her little ones, three in number, one little boy having got out at the window himself, she could not; the flames rushed upon her and she could only flee or perish. She and little Eddie, escaped through the window upon a shed back of the house, and got down in time to save themselves, although they were both badly burned, and Mrs. S. so severely that she only lived till the following morning. Eddie, the little boy that escaped was the oldest and was aged seven years. The three that perished were Johnny, aged five, Lizzie, aged three, and little Willie, the babe, aged fourteen months. Mrs. Susan Steventon was a woman of much intelligence, and esteemed and respected by all who knew her. How the fire caught is a mystery to all, and it burned with such fury that before the citizens could get to the spot, even those who lived nearest by, no human aid could save the little sufferers from the devouring flames. Those three little ones each combining all that there is of innocence, purity and childish perfection, were swallowed up in the flames, and the mother sacrificed her own life in trying to save them. The remains were taken from the ruins as soon as possible, but could not be distinguished only by the size of the bodies. Mr. Steventon is left here with his little Eddie, while the mother has gone on with the other little ones "across the swelling flood." The melancholy affair has cast a gloom over the whole community and although the grief falls heaviest upon the husband and father, it is shared by all. Mr. S. having had his hand severely hurt a short time ago, was almost helpless. The fire has taken everything he had in this world but one little boy.

HENRY HALLAM.—It is pleasant to learn something about the personal appearance and characteristics of the calm and judicial historian of the "Middle Ages" and of the English Constitution, who died ten years ago. Miss Martineau says:

"The reader of his weighty (not heavy) works, impressed with the judicial character of the style both of thought and expression, imagined him a solemn, pale student, and might almost expect to see him in a judge's wig; whereas, the stranger would find him the most rapid talker in company, quick in his movements, genial in his feelings, earnest in narrative, rather full of dissent from what everybody said, and gently surprised when he found himself agreeing with anybody, and pretty sure to blurt out something awkward before the day was done, but never giving offence, because his talk was always the fresh growth of the topic, and, it may be added, his manners were those of a thoroughbred gentleman. He was an admirable subject for his friend Sydney Smith's description. In a capital sketch of a dinner party to which Sydney Smith went late, Hallam was one of the figures. "And there was Hallam, with his mouth full of cabbage and contradiction."

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—Parry Hudson, who has been employed as bar keeper in the various saloons in this city since 1859, committed suicide. Of late he has been engaged in business at Los Angeles. A short time since he passed this city on business and on his return trip by the Orizaba committed suicide by cutting his throat during a fit of temporary insanity when the vessel was near Wilmington.

A fire occurred yesterday morning in Weed & Gallagher's brass foundry and finishing shop, No. 15 First street. The machinery in the shop was badly damaged. All the belting and wooden pullies were destroyed, and the building, which is owned by the Pacific Iron Works Company, was badly injured. A boarding house adjoining the foundry was on fire several times and all the lodgers got out with their effects, but it was saved.

The case of the People vs. Ah Kow is on trial in the Fourth District Court to-day before a jury. The prisoner was indicted for the murder of Long Man Tin on the night of January 24th last, on Dupont street, by shooting him with a pistol.

About two weeks since Miss Cassy Sweeny, who was employed as servant in a house on Natoma street, was badly burned, her clothes taking fire from a candle. It was thought that she might recover, but after lingering in great agony till Saturday she died.

Great excitement was caused on Third street to-day, by the sudden appearance on the street, of a brutal looking fellow named John Hurly, crazy drunk and anxious to murder the first person whom he could lay his hands on. He ran into a butcher shop, drove the inmates out and came on the street again, armed with a cleaver and long sharp knife. Everybody who came in his way, men, women and children, had to turn and flee for their lives, chased by the monster into the shops and houses. Some proposed to shoot him down as he ran, but officer Maguire, assisted by a civilian, took after him, and after a desperate struggle, succeeded in disarming him. He was immediately handcuffed, but even then was so powerful that four or five men were required to take him to the Station house. His disposition was bad enough to murder any whom he might reach, and it is singular he did not succeed in reaching some one.

A few days since we published the fact that a man named Michael Travis was missing, and that his friends were very much concerned for his safety. He had been employed as an engineer for a stevedore and engine at Vallejo street wharf. Yesterday his body was found floating in the bay near North Point. Travis was a native of Ireland and leaves a wife and four children.

CANYONVILLE, March 22.—A consultation of physicians was held yesterday over a man named J. C. Cline, of this place, afflicted with tuberculosis of the ankle joint. THE OPENING OF THE TRANS-CONTINENTAL RAILWAY.—The following editorial remarks are from the Chicago Republican:

The most extraordinary railroad event of this railroad age is in preparation—the magnificent trans-continental excursion which in the coming month of July, is to open the Pacific railway route from one ocean to the other. Its managers will make their own announcements in good time, and former occasions are in proof how well they understand their business. It will be the world's great representative gathering, that will meet in the heart of the continent to see the last rail spiked home. From this side the party will consist of one thousand guests, in a superb train of forty-five cars, finished expressly for this occasion. Dr. Durant will, we learn, commence the excursion proper at Omaha, leaving it to guests all over the country to reach that point by their own choice of routes. At the head of the list of invited guests will be President Grant and his Cabinet. There will also be delegations of our foreign cousins over the water. It will be worth something to see the grand gathering at Chicago, and the transit through this city. We learn that the Pullman Company are building several splendid sleeping and commissary cars for the call to be made on these facilities. Altogether it will be an affair in American railroad annals unlikely ever to be surpassed, since no possible achievement of equal magnitude waits to be performed. Other routes to the Pacific are to be created, but this is the first.

An interesting discovery of foreign ancient coins has just taken place in the neighborhood of Lisieux (Calvados). There are in all 50 pieces, 16 being of gold and 34 of silver; some are very rare, and the greater part are in an excellent state of preservation. The oldest date from the reign of Louis XII., the most recent from that of Henry III., the others belong to the reign of Francis I., Henry II., Charles IX., Ferdinand and Isabella of Castile, Charles the Fifth, Emperor of Germany, Philip II. of Spain and Holland; Sebastian and John III. of Portugal. These coins were found concealed in the hollow foot of an old cupboard fixed in a wall. They had probably been concealed there during the wars of religion.

Mr. SIMS appreciates the past liberal patronage of his friends, and trusts he may continue to merit it in the future. For the information of strangers he would say that he feels confident that his experience in his particular calling is surpassed by none on this Coast, which his superior work, sent to almost every town in California, Oregon, Victoria and Sandwich Islands, and to be seen on some of the best buildings in San Francisco, fully attest.
